Web Application

- An extension of the project.
- Contains a subset of most important functionality of desktop application.
- Numerous extensions of web application part of future work.